HE STUCK HIS HEAD THROUGH HOLE IN ICE

Peoria Man Escapes Cairo Officers and Suicides.

He Left a Note to His Wife and Was Undoubtedly Insane
When He Died.

HIS ACCOUNTS ALL STRAIGHT

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 16.—F. R. Avery, secretary of the Avery Manufacturing company, Peoria, Ill., and trustee of the First Baptist church, Peoria, the pastor of which was Rev. Simmons, who recently committed suicide, drowned himself yesterday at Centerville, a station on the Illinois Central railroad, six miles from East St. Louis. Leaving the train he had boarded at Cairo, after escaping his guard, he walked across the track at that point to a shallow pond, broke a hole in the ice with his foot, removed his coat, then lying down stuck his head in the water. Several passengers noticed his queer actions. They first thought he was preparing to wash his face, but as the train departed they saw he remained prone on the ground. They told the conductor, who mentioned the matter to Yardmaster Bennett when the train reached East St. Louis at 11 a. m., and he telegraphed Centerville, making inquiries. An answer was received, saying that the body had been found. Bennett went to Centerville on a switch engine and examined the body. Two notes were found. One was written on the back of a receipt and read:

"To My Dear Wife: If I am dead it is not by my own hand. A tough gang have me in bad. F. R. Avery."

The other was in an envelope addressed to J. B. Bartholomew, Peoria, Ill. The envelope was sealed, but there was no paper inside. A note was scribbled on the inside of the envelope and read:

"I am going in the river at St. Louis, Feb. 15, 1906. F. R. Avery."

Wanderings and Escape in Cairo.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 16.—Officer Bert Nichols had an experience with the demented man in the early hours of yesterday morning.

After the man had gotten away from the depot and dashed madly up Ohio street the officer, coming in hot pursuit, found him again.

It would have been the height of folly for the officer to attempt to overpower him. The officer therefore sought to lead him by gentle words, inviting him to go up Commercial avenue. Avery replied: "No, I want to go this way," and he turned west on Tenth street, the officer accompanying him. They walked along quietly toward Washington avenue, the officer hoping at every step to meet another officer, but he did not. At Douglas and Washington Avery turned into the Red Cross drug store and walked boldly behind the counter. Dr. Simons protested, but was given a signal by the officer and he let Avery sit down in the prescription department, where he sat a few minutes. Leaving there Avery and the officer went east on Thirtieth street and when they reached Commercial avenue, the officer, thinking he could find an officer in that place, asked Avery to step into the Senate saloon and have a cigar. Avery refused, saying he did not smoke.

"Will you stand here till I get one?" asked the officer.

"Yes, I'll stay here," was the reply.

The officer barely looked into the place and turned back only to see Avery dashing up Commercial avenue as hard as he could go. That was the last the officer saw of the man.

His Accounts Straight.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 16.—F. R. Avery, of the Avery Manufacturing company of this city, who committed suicide near East St. Louis today, is believed here to have taken his life while insane, as a note left by him for his wife when he left home Tuesday indicated that he was mentally unbalanced. Investigation of Avery's accounts with the Avery Manufacturing company, has shown them to be in perfect order.

Report.

MOVE FOR 100 DAY SESSION.

Committee Reports.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 16.—The committee on municipalities of the house has agreed to report favorably the Mueller bill, providing for creating a "Board of Waterworks," of Louisville, to take charge of and operate the waterworks plant of that city. The bill will meet with no opposition in the house, and may get through that body before the close of next week.

The senate committee appointed to investigate charges of mismanagement against the Confederate Home at Povee Valley, made its report denouncing the charges as "frivolous, malignant and unwarranted." It holds that the home is excellently managed.

Feeling secure in his seat, the contest of Judge Cole having been dismissed, Hannah, of Greenup, wants the length of the session extended. He introduced a bill proposing to submit to the people of the state the question of so amending the constitution as to extend the time of sessions from sixty to one hundred days.

The senate refused to make the county unit bill a special order. Senator Cammack charged Thorne and opposition to bill with unfairness.

Refused Joint Session.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 16.—The house this morning refused to go into joint session with the senate on Tuesday next for the purpose of hearing a discussion by the state insurance commissioner and insurance men on the committee bills regulating life companies.

EXECUTION STOPPED

Chicago, Feb. 16.—While John Mueller, convicted of murdering his wife and two children, was being prepared for the gallows this morning he was granted a brief respite in order that his sanity might be inquired into. The examination was made by Dr. Patrick, professor of nervous disease of Northwestern university, and proving futile, Mueller was hanged at 12:44.

AMERICANS WILL BE LOOKED AFTER

Uncle Sam Prepared to Protect Them All in China.

Former Minister Talks—Attacks Reported On Foreign Missions.

THE SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Recent military measures for the protection of lives and property of Americans in China, inaugurated by Secretary Taft, with full concurrence, have justified the increase in American forces in the orient. President Roosevelt laid the case before the cabinet some months ago.

38,000 Troops For Manila.

Washington, Feb. 16.—While Congress has refused to make the $100,000 appropriation asked for by the administration for the purpose, it is known the plans of the general staff of the army contemplate the mobilization of 38,000 troops at Manila. This is for a possible expedition to China. This will include in addition to the troops already announced, four regiments of cavalry and seven field batteries. The president has conferred with both Senator Allison and Representative Tawney, chairmen of the committees on appropriations of the two houses, urging the appropriation asked for, but so far congress has not been disposed to act.

Former Minister Conger Talks.

Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—Edward H. Conger, for many years United States minister to China, and who is staying at Pasadena for the winter is quoted in an interview on the present anti-foreign agitation in China as follows:

"The United States should warn China against a repetition of the terrible riots of a few years ago."

"A show of warships should be made to impress upon the government of China that the troubles must not be repeated and will not be tolerated."

"I am satisfied that serious trouble will come, but do not expect that it will be directed especially against the United States, but will be against the reigning Manchu dynasty."

"The Manchurians are insignificant in numbers, and the present uprising is for the purpose of establishing a new dynasty and not to oust foreigners," continued Mr. Conger. "The most violent disturbances will be in the southern provinces and will endanger all foreign interests."

"Americans within the zone of the rebellion are liable to be hurt before they can get out, and that is why the United States should let China know that it will not tolerate for an instant anything inimical to the interests of its citizens."

"If China is permitted to think that it can ignore our interests, something terrible will happen."

"The struggle now will be a great struggle within the empire—a battle of popular majority against the dynastic minority. It has been brewing for many years and has now apparently reached a climax."

Attack Foreign Mission.

London, Feb. 16.—The Standard's Shanghai correspondent telegraphs: "News has reached here of another attack on the foreign mission at Nanking. No loss of life is reported."

"Yesterday an attempt was made here by a trusted Chinese servant to murder the secretary of the French municipal council, while he was asleep. The attempt was frustrated and the assailant arrested."

"Many provincial viceroys are displaying a marked anti-foreign attitude which they would hardly dare so openly to assume unless they thought Pekin approved their conduct. In the foreign settlements of treaty ports efforts are being made quietly to recover privileges granted foreigners."

"In some quarters Japan is believed to view the possibility of armed intervention being necessary with equanimity, since it would provide her with occasion to obtain from China what she failed to exact from Russia."

Sailed With Sealed Orders.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—The United States army transport Sherman sailed today for Honolulu, Guam and the Philippines, with 100 cabin passengers, a few troops and 4,000 tons of military supplies. Among the passengers were Major Generals Brooke and Weston, the latter going to Manila under sealed orders. In army circles it is surmised he may succeed General Leonard Wood in case the latter should be ordered to China. Colonel William S. Patten, who for some time has been quartermaster of the department of California, also sailed on the Sherman, to assume a similar position in the department of the Philippines.

Legations Are Warned.

London, Feb. 16.—The Tribune's Pekin correspondent wires that all the legation guards have been warned of impending danger and that the secretary of the German legation has obtained an additional battery.

The position of China is increasingly ugly. The government eager to save the dynasty, is seeking to placate foreigners, Yuanshikai, under the pretense of suppressing the Chungchuses, who are quiescent as yet, is moving six regiments of trained troops to Chinchow.

It is reported that the real reason for the action is that the army is honeycombed with secret societies and the government desires to remove the dangerous weapon from the vicinity of the capital.

STOVE TURNED OVER

MRS. JOHN D. FERGUSON PAIX-FULLY BURNED AT LA CENTER.

She is Mother of Railroad Commissioner McD. Ferguson.

Hon. McD. Ferguson was at Frankfort attending a meeting of the railroad commissioners when he received a telegram from his son, Garth Ferguson, notifying him of the accident to his mother, and it is understood he reached La Center this morning.

Mrs. Ferguson is 69 years old and widow of Rev. J. D. Ferguson, a pioneer minister of the Christian church in the Purchase.

CHINESE PEOPLE SIMPLY RESTLESS

This is the Opinion of Mr. J. L.
Stuart, Just Arrived.

He Has Spent Thirty Years Among Them—They Want to Expand and Progress.

BEGAN WITH BOXER TROUBLES.

Mr. J. L. Stuart, of Hang Chow, China, is at the Craig House, at Sixth and Monroe streets, visiting his wife, who has been a guest of their son here, Dr. D. T. Stuart, for the past several months. Mr. Stuart is an intelligent gentleman of pleasing address, who with his wife has spent thirty years in China, in charge of missionary work for the Presbyterians. Mrs. Stuart came back to America last fall, and has since been visiting in Virginia and Paducah. They will remain in the United States all this year, and if the present threatened trouble in China becomes more serious, may remain even longer.

Mr. Stuart talks intelligently of China and its people. He does not believe that the present agitation is solely against foreigners. It is merely the out-cropping of the Chinese spirit, which has been repressed and restrained so long.

"Of course," said Mr. Stuart this morning, "I left China before any of the present trouble began. I know nothing of it, but naturally have an idea of the causes."

"It seems to me that the Chinese people are in a state of growing unrest. They have been so since the Boxer troubles five years ago. They are beginning to read the papers more and to take more interest in the outside world. They want progress. The merchants want to branch out as they know they could, but for conditions. The government—the Chinese officials,—do not approve. The literary class is also against it, but the people seem to want something. Perhaps they don't know exactly what it is, but they want something and they are beginning to stir uneasily like a monster which has grown to such proportions during a long sleep that when he begins to awake,—as they are doing,—he hardly knows what to do with himself. Politically and commercially, China is awakening. The people want railroads, they want to develop the wonderful resources of their country both above and below the ground, and they want to occupy their proper place among the nations."

"There is even talk of a republic, but of course the idea is not yet clearly defined, although it seemingly has taken root. They want to grow great as other nations, but the officials will not permit them."

"The Chinese, speaking of them as a whole, feel keenly the effects of the uncertainty of the future. They might grow rich, but they are afraid to. They would invest money in railroads, and thus develop the country, but they never know when the government might deprive them of the privilege of enjoying the benefit of their investment. They have some railroads now, of course, but very few."

"The Chinese are quick to learn. They have the money to build railroads and brains to run them, but they are afraid. From Hang Chow to Shanghai, a distance of 150 miles, there are four boat lines. The rivers have their steamers, and the canals their tug boats. The launches or tugs leave Hang Chow regularly every day for Shanghai, with a string of house-boats, six in number, the tug being to the boats what an engine is to a string of cars. The 150 miles is made in 24 hours, and there are four different lines."

"The Chinese are a quiet, peaceful nation. Usually when there is a riot, massacre or other disturbance, there is a cause for it. It may not be a good cause, but there is never I believe a wanton uprising. In Hang Chow, a place of 80,000 inhabitants, I do not believe that there is as much crime and violence as there is here in Paducah. I should not be afraid to go out alone on the streets at any time in the night. I have never heard of a murder there. Of course lots may happen that you never hear of, but I consider the Chinese a tranquil people."

"To revert to the original subject, however, they are now 'moving.' There is unrest, uneasiness. How it will end I do not know. I do not believe it is solely a hostility towards foreigners. The people are simply dissatisfied, and want progress."

Mr. Stuart said he expected to return to China the last of this year, provided there is no serious trouble then. He and his wife have done a great work among the Chinese.

TRESTLE TRAGEDY DUE TO NEGLIGENCE

Says the Jury in the Henley Case.

Inquest Held This Morning Into the Death of Mrs. Joseph Henley, of Littleville.

MRS. PRINCE WILL RECOVER.

Coroner Frank Eaker held an inquest over the body of Mrs. Joseph Henley this morning at 9 o'clock at the family residence in Littleville, and a verdict to the effect that Mrs.
Henley came to her death by being knocked from a railroad track, off a trestle, and due to the carelessness of the engineer and flagman of the train was returned.

Mrs. Henley and her husband's aunt, Mrs. Fannie Prince, were returning home Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock; it is alleged, and came to the trestle near the Thompson stock yards on the I. C. road. A freight train was standing partly on the trestle and the women asked a young man named Everts if they could cross. He replied that the train had stopped and that they could They started and were slipping by the side of the cars when the train started. The women became frightened but remained on the trestle until a very wide car reached them and it is said brushed them off.

The engineer, fireman, conductor and flagman with Everts and one or two other witnesses, testified, and the evidence, brought out the above facts. The engineer had not blown the backing signal it is said, before he began to back.

The inquest was attended by attorneys for the railroad company and a stenographer who took down the evidence.

The inquest began at 9 o'clock and lasted until nearly noon, and the following verdict was returned:

"We, the jurors, find that Mrs.
Henley came to her death by being knocked off the road or trestle on the I. C. railroad through neglect of flagman and engineer."

The flagman was in the caboose at the time the women started to cross, but did not tell them they might, as at first reported. From the evidence they simply attempted to pass alongside the cars, whereupon the cars started moving and were brushed off. The backing signal might have had no effect because the women were already past one car when the train began to back.

Mrs. Prince, who sustained a broken leg, is better today and will recover. It cannot be determined yet whether or not the injured limb will have to be amputated.

Mrs. Henley's funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, burial at Oak Grove.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times a Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out their souls for it. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and eat according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for awhile and enslave ourselves to a diet. We read about the hardy Scotsman being fed on porridge and oatcake, making soldiers of muscle and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the line, eating and drinking to fullness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "what is a stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate."

But there is really no rule applicable to everybody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not.

But the dyspeptic should remember that the death list has a dark shadow hovering over it with a long bony finger pointing to "died of heart disease." Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement.

At every meal we are brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast tomorrow morning, or after that oyster supper tomorrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice decides, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not.

Therefore, if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't dispose of the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once. Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the most powerful tablets in the world for the relief of all kinds of stomach trouble, nausea, indigestion, the worst cases of dyspepsia, fermentation, bloaty feeling, sourness, heartburn and brash.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of more than two-thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal, feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Give your stomach a rest, so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

Mattoon has turned out some great ball players in the past. Among those are "Dummy" Taylor, "Bob" Wicker, Henley, McCarthy, Roy Brashear, "Pug" Bennett, Del Howard and "Nick" Carter.—Cairo Bulletin.

BOARD OF HEALTH WANTS INSPECTORS

Put to Work in Paducah March 1st This Year.

A Great Deal of Good in a Sanitary Way Done by the City Last Year.

TO MEET LEGISLATIVE BOARDS.

The board of health expects to meet in a few days with the sanitary committee of the municipal boards for the purpose of outlining several ordinances pertaining to the sanitation of Paducah, and the board of health expects to start in early this spring in cleaning up the city.

"The board desires to get up some ordinance relative to the sanitary matters, and wants to have the co-operation of the municipal boards before the measures are outlined," a member of the board stated today. "We will recommend that two sanitary officers be put on March 1st and all persons made to clean up the city. I have made a close investigation of the work done by the city last season during the yellow fever scare and find that we secured as near perfect drainage as possible in the real bad portions of the city. All holes were filled and stagnating ponds filled in. Outhouses were cleaned by the city and it did a world of good. Doctors report that there has been less serious illness this winter than in years, and it is due, I take it, to the improved sanitary conditions necessary to good health."

"The board last year had the hearty co-operation of the municipal boards and showed clearly that the money expended in cleaning up, was not wasted, and I feel the city will be encouraged over the good result sufficiently to place the necessary funds at the boards disposal in order that the good work be continued."

There are a great many places in the city not in a sanitary condition which will have to be attended to, and in order that the inspectors get to work and compel a general cleaning up before the hot weather arrives, the board will recommend that the inspectors be put on March 1st, in order that they have plenty of time.

It is Said Today—They Now Slow Up at Broadway.

It is reported today, but not confirmed, that the Illinois Central will at once order the Cairo trains to stop at Broadway as they come into Paducah. The train now slows up and many passengers are able to get off. Supt. Egan has not stated positively what will be done, but is expected to notify local officials by tomorrow what the road intends to do.

ARE YOU A WAGE EARNER OR A MILLIONAIRE?

MATTERS not to us. We have a proposition that will interest you. Something you cannot afford to miss. A thoughtful man will provide for his wife. A sensible wife will remind him of it. His children will bless him for it. The Standard Trust Company will show him the way. We loan him the money to build a house from cellar to roof. He simply lives in it, pays us a small amount each month (much less than rent), and in a few years owns his own home. Of course, the landlord and property owners will recommend renting, because the rent money goes into their pockets. Is it not time for the poor to stop fattening the rich. Own your own home. Be your own master. Look into our plan. Have your lawyer examine our contract and proposition. It costs you nothing to investigate. If you don't like it, don't take it.

OFFICERS ELECTED

MR. JOSEPH L. FRIEDMAN PRESIDENT OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Other Officers Chosen—Secretary's Term Not Yet Out—Immigration Discussed.

The annual election of officers of the Commercial and Manufacturers' Association of Paducah, was held last night at the club headquarters on Legal Row and the following were elected:

Joseph L. Friedman, president.
H. C. Rhodes, first vice-president.
W. P. Hummel, second vice-president.

Ben Weille, treasurer.
The officers are to serve until April, 1907 and the office of secretary was not filled last night. The term of the present incumbent, Mr. D. W. Coons, is not up until April, and the board saw no necessity for electing last night.

The immigration matter was discussed by the board but nothing definite announced. Plans and arrangements for the encouragement of immigration to Paducah and McCracken county were made but they are not in any condition to be made public. The Commercial club members desire to complete all arrangements before any active step is taken.

Sec'y Coons and Mr. W. L. Bauer were appointed as a committee to attend the annual meeting of the State Farmers' Institute at Frankfort, Ky., on the 28th. They will both attend.

A letter from the Chicago Commercial club relative to the visit of a committee from Chicago to Paducah was presented. The committee had been appointed but the date of arrival had not been set.

SCHAEFER MURDERER

May Yet Be Brought to Justice at Bedford.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 16.—Judge Wilson, of the Lawrence circuit court, has granted Prosecutor Fletcher a grand jury to convene Monday, February 26 when Fletcher, aided by John H. Underwood, will deliver into the Schaefer murder case. Mr. Fletcher says he has evidence at his command never before given before a court that will insure indictments and the final conviction of the murderers of Miss Schaefer. The people believe the prosecutor is on the right trail and have much confidence in his assertions.

The Mercury Went in Paducah Last Night.

The weather continues cold and skating is good again on all ponds, lakes and gravel pits about the city.

This morning the lowest registered by the government thermometer was 19 degrees above zero, and the highest yesterday 31. The weather man sends out encouragement for milder weather. The report reads: "Fair tonight, Saturday threatening with rising temperature."

To the Paducah Sun:

I see in your issue of February 15th, that my name is connected with the proposition now being considered by the city authorities of employing a city buyer to look after that interest of the city.

I desire to say that as I had not even given the subject any thought whatever, the connecting of my name with the matter was premature and entirely unauthorized.

Very respectfully,

Large Crowd Will Enjoy the Tyler Lecture.

The tickets for the lecture by Judge Henry Tyler, of Hickman, Ky., to be given next Monday evening at the Kentucky theater under the auspices of the James T. Walbert camp, U. C. V., for the Confederate monument fund, are being sold very rapidly. So far Dr. D. G. Murrell, who is chairman of the monument fund, is in the lead, having sold 111 on yesterday.

The lecture is entitled "Kentucky Brigade of Forrest's Cavalry" and is the same one recently delivered at Nashville, Tenn., before an audience of several thousand people and which netted $1,000 for the Confederates of that city. It is a most picturesque and notable men in southern history, and Judge Tyler will speak from the viewpoint of personal knowledge, having served under the great leader. He will be introduced by the Hon. Given Campbell, of this city, who also followed Forrest. The Confederate Veterans will occupy the stage in a body on the occasion.

HIS OWN LAWYER

AND THE YOUTH SOON PROVED THE OLD SAYING.

Not Many Cases on Judge Sanders' Docket This Morning.

The truth of the old adage "When a man is his own attorney he has a fool for a client," was borne out in full this morning in police court when Ernest Beckelheimer, a youth hardly out of his teens, was arraigned for being drunk and disorderly. He secured no attorney and when his case was called came forward to plead his own case.

He pleaded it, and the more he pleaded the worse he made it. The charge was single when he started out, but before he had finished he had succeeded admirably in adding another charge, even a greater one than the first.

Beckelheimer last night got too much whiskey under his belt and started out to "do things." He succeeded. The young man is a relative of Wm. Gibson, a flagman residing at the Tennessee street crossing of the I. C. road, and went there to argue. He became so boisterous that he had to be arrested. In telling of the matter this morning he developed in his pleading the fact that he was guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. He admitted he had the barrel of a shotgun down his pant leg and the stock in a grip which he carried in his hand. This is legally guilty of carrying concealed weapons and Judge Sanders fined him $25 and costs and ten days in jail. For the disorderly conduct charge he was fined $30 and costs.

E. J. Adams, who cut Walter Shelby, a bartender on West Kentucky avenue, night before last, was held over under a $300 bond for malicious cutting. Shelby was not seriously injured, the knife making a mere scratch.

Walter Smith, colored, quarrelled with Emma McKnight, colored, his sweetheart, last night ending in his chasing her several blocks. He was fined $20 and costs for disorderly conduct and given twenty days in jail and a $50 fine for carrying a concealed weapon.

Other cases were: George Goodman, for violating the Sabbath, continued until the 21st; John Britton, white, refusing to pay a hack fare, $5 and costs.

THE STATE BOARD INDORSES EVERTZ

Official Notice Was Received Here Today.

The New Electrical Inspector Has Now Completed His First Month in Paducah.

APPOINTMENT IS PERMANENT

Mr. Frank O. Evertz, of St. Louis, who is now finishing up one month's trial as electrical inspector for the city, has been endorsed officially by the board of underwriters of the state of Kentucky. Mr. C. C. Rose, local insurance commissioner, received a letter to this effect this morning.

There had been a great deal of interest taken in the matter of selecting an officer to fill this position since the resignation of Mr. Wm. Gilsdorf, who was made state inspector by the board of underwriters and the matter was brought up in the city board meetings several times. Talk of competitive examinations, etc., was indulged in, but no definite action was taken by the board.

Mr. Rose wrote the state board asking what it proposed to do in the matter and received his answer this morning. The letter came from Mr. C. F. Snyder, secretary of the board, and it endorsed Mr. Evertz, who was recommended to the board by the state inspector as a man well qualified for the position.

Mr. Evertz is a young man of vast experience in this line of work, and his work here so far has been excellent and satisfactory in every detail. He has not removed his family to Paducah because he has not received the permanent appointment, but now that the state board's endorsement has been received his appointment to the place will doubtless be ratified.

Chief Wood, of the fire department, is the inspector or city electrician by ordinance, but appoints his assistant the electrical inspector. He has never done this, leaving the matter of selection to the boards. The matter will be brought up Monday, it is said, and the appointment settled.

TUBERCULOSIS IN THE SMALL TOWNS.

Tuberculosis is usually looked upon as a disease of over-crowded cities, and there is some doubt in the public mind as to whether a movement against the disease in a small city like Lexington, or in a state like Kentucky, having only one large city, and no very large ones, is necessary, says the Lexington Herald.

Tuberculosis is a disease generally, though not necessarily, incident to city life. But it is pre-eminently a house disease and many cases have been cited recently of houses in villages and in the country bearing as tragic a history as any crowded city flat. The small towns and country districts have rested in such fancied security that the disease has actually been checked in greater degree in great cities than in these localities. In speaking of this in his treatise on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis," Dr. Kleb says:

"Another fact of great importance has been brought out by another investigator of this subject, Miss Brandt, the statistician of the New York tuberculosis committee. She shows that the rate of decrease (of deaths) has been distinctly greater in cities than in rural districts, and points out that active preventive measure are much needed in small towns and country districts."

And he adds:

"This brings us to the recognition of the fundamental truth that it is not so much the crowding of a given acreage which favors the spread of tuberculosis, but that it is in the crowding of a smaller area, that of one house or flat and the concomitant unsanitary conditions affecting uniformly all members of one family, where we have to look for the focus of the disease. In one word. We have recognized the tuberculosis problem as being eminently a house problem. The proof of this has been furnished in this country by Flick, Biggs, Osler and others, and its application in preventive efforts cannot be ignored any more."

There are homes in the poorer parts of Lexington, both of the white and colored, in the colored districts in all the cities and towns of the state, and in the mountain districts among whites, where conditions of over-crowding and lack of sanitation are as bad as in any city tenement. In the alarming figures of our death rate from tuberculosis, where it has been compiled in Kentucky, we yield precedence to none.

MR. BRYAN IN THE ORIENT.

Though a man of presumably patriotic intent, blended with a powerful tendency to get on the wrong side of public questions, Mr. Bryan is carrying out sentiment in the east that is detrimental to the cause of the creat. Mr. Bryan's appearance in the Philippines was a signal for all the irreconcilable elements to come out and encourage him in the role of always being "agin the government." He said nothing especially rank in the Philippines, as far as reports have reached the "public," but the make-up of his audience was significant. They were composed of the Filipinos who would create trouble for the United States if they had a chance. The drift of the speeches they heard was that the United States had made a mistake in the Philippines, and is unduly holding back in admitting and repairing it.

Mr. Bryan is something more than a politician who has been twice defeated for the presidency. If a Democratic national convention were held today, he would either be nominated for president or would name the head of the ticket. He can get more votes than any other Democrat. That fact was rubbed in by the Parker slump. As the chief figure in the opposition Mr. Bryan may work some mischief in the orient by his facility and cocksure style as an orator. He has just been telling a company of Chinese merchants what this country will and will not do. Would it not be better to await the action of congress, the president, and the state department? Our relations with China are somewhat critical, and Mr. Bryan should permit them to be conducted through official channels. He committed a monumental blunder on the money standard of the world. History may be compelled to say that errors of judgment in public affairs were his chief characteristic.

The railroads, along with other alleged trusts, are having the hardest time of their existence, and the abolition of passes has not helped them any, which they are beginning to realize. Joseph Ramsey, formerly president of the Wabash, is quoted as saying: "I consider the move of abolishing the railroad pass to have been a most serious blunder, especially at this time, when the roads had so much to contend with." Of course, the pass system was abused most unmercifully, but the time for wiping it out altogether had not come. This seems to be the growing opinion in railroad circles, but they have taken the step and must abide the consequences.

RED LETTER DAY

Was Fittingly Observed by the W. C. T. U. Yesterday.

The local W. C. T. U. celebrated their regular meeting yesterday at the 1st Baptist church as "Red Letter Day" in memory of the "Heavenly Birthday" of Miss Frances Willard who died on February 17.

Mrs. Dorothy Koger, who is superintendent of Red Letter Day, was in charge of the services, and many beautiful and eloquent tributes to Miss Willard and her place and influence in the modern world's thought, were paid. All the members took part in the services, and the different departments of the local W. C. T. U. were represented by special papers bearing on Miss Willard's national life and home life.

CARNIVAL SITE MAY BE CHANGED

Spring Festivities to Be Nearer Heart of City.

The Exact Location Not Given Out—New Carnival Company Writes For Information.

WANTS TO COME TO PADUCAH.

There is a probability that the spring carnival of the Paducah Carnival association will be given in a new location this year, and nearer the heart of the city. The location has not been made public, but it is given out that the site will probably be changed.

Some of the directors, it is understood, are in favor of a street fair, such as they had three years ago, but it is said that a majority is opposed to a street fair. While the matter has not been settled, it is safe to predict that the enclosed carnival will ultimately be decided on.

The officers of the association are now corresponding with a new carnival company, and Secretary R. C. Davis and Mr. L. A. Lagonarsino will go to Jackson, or Vicksburg, Miss., early in March to look over the attractions. They may go to see it in New Orleans next week, but the indications are that they will wait until March. This company is the Cosmopolitan Amusement company, and it already has a number of contracts in the south.

The company carries its own twenty-two cars, and in addition to other attractions has a wild west show with real Indians, cowboys and uses about 200 people.

The contract for attractions will be awarded as soon as possible. Possibly the last of February will be too early, as all the information desired will not be in by that time.

RUNNING FIGHT

Follows Discovery of Robbers by Citizens at Evansport, O.

Bryan, O., Feb. 16.—Caught in an attempt to blow the safe of the Shuter Hardware Co., at Evansport, after looting the postoffice early this morning, four robbers gave a posse of citizens a running fight for six miles and escaped in a buggy which they stole before operations began.

None of the pursuing party was hurt, although over a hundred shots were exchanged.

Failure does not necessarily imply incapacity or weakness. Many of the men of today failed and were weaklings a few years ago, but have since recouped by their aggressive and powerful efforts. If you fail once, keep up your courage and try again.

Imperial Confectionery Co.

Will open for business at 331 Broadway, Feb. 17, with a full line of up-to-date home-made candies, fruits nuts and everything found in a first-class confectionery. Oysters and ice cream in season.

Miss Boswell Guest of Honor.

Mrs. Charles Viele, a recent bride, with Miss Mary Boswell, of Paducah, Ky., who is visiting the hostess of the occasion, were the honor guests for a delightful "afternoon" at cards given Wednesday by Mrs. Frank Byrnes, Jr., entertaining forty guests at her home in South Second street.

There were seven tables for progressive euchre arranged in the drawing room, point euchre being played.

Carrying off the honors of the game were Miss Marie Cunningham, who was the winner of a beautiful Doulton plate, and Mrs. Howard Roosa, whose trophy was a handsome brass candlestick.

Miss Arabelle Walden of Owensboro, Ky., was an out-of-town guest of the occasion.

Following the game a delightful luncheon was served in two courses at the card table. In keeping with the valentine sentiment were the heart-shaped sandwiches and dainty valentines as talies, which were pretty souvenirs of the event.

Mrs. James Thomas assisted the hostess in keeping the score, etc.

The hostess wore a becoming gown of blue chiffon taffeta inset with white lace, her sister, Mrs. Viele, being very handsome in pink crepe de chine with pink hat, her flowers being American Beauties. Miss Boswell's costume was of lavender crepe de chine with lace. Mrs. Thomas wearing blue crepe cloth lace trimmed.—Evansville Courier.

For Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Hamilton Parks was the hostess of a luncheon of unusual beauty of arrangement Thursday, given in compliment to her guests, her mother, Mrs. J. L. Webb, and sister, Mrs. Robert Phillips of Paducah, Ky., who are being extended a number of pretty social courtesies. The parlor was effectively decorated in Jackson vines and a profusion of pink carnations, and the library and dining-room were in crimson and green, with red shaded lights on the vine-hung chandeliers. The table, at which a congenial party of sixteen guests was accommodated, was veiled with damask and lace, and in the center was a great bouquet of meteor roses in a cut-glass vase. At each side were colonial brass candlesticks with crimson flower shaded tapers, and similar shaded candles burned on candelabra on the mantel and cabinets in the apartment. Red heart valentines, to which meteor roses were attached, marked the places, and the same color was in evidence in the elaborate nine-course menu served, the fruit parfait, garnished with crimson rosebuds, being especially pretty. Mrs. Parks appeared in a white tulle and lace, and Mrs. Webb in a black chiffon crepe, with touches of real lace. Mrs. Phillips wore white panne crepe, combined with Duchess lace.—Nashville Banner.

In Honor of Mrs. Hendrick.

The Smithland Banner says: "One of the prettiest entertainments given the ladies of Smithland for quite a while was that given Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Woman's Missionary Society and a few invited guests, by Miss Laura Champion in honor of Mrs. John K. Hendrick, who is soon to leave for Paducah. It was a Valentine party and the humorous features were emphasized in several serio-comic contests. Mrs. David Cowper, Mrs. Nettie Presnell, Mrs. W. I. Clark, Mrs. L. T. Worren, Mrs. E. B. Sedberry and Miss Mattie Wilson won the prizes. Mrs. Hendrick was presented with a pretty book souvenir by the hostess. The colors, pink and white, were carried out in the delightful ices and cake served.

An Enjoyable Entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Scott, of 1339 Jackson street, entertained last night in honor of Mr. Scott's thirty-third

IN THE COURTS

Case is Settled.

The Paducah Traction company has paid over to the administrator of Malcolm Greenlea $5,000, the amount of the verdict obtained against the company in circuit court for the death of young Greenlea, who was killed near First and Broadway by two cars coming together while he was changing his trolley.

Big Cases Compromised.

A compromise was effected yesterday in the suits of L. E. Stevenson, administrator, against the I. C., and Anna Nichols, against the I. C., the plaintiffs being paid $9,000 in total for $13,000 damages they had been awarded in circuit court here.

The former sued for $25,000 for the death of his wife who was killed on a trestle on the I. C. during an I. C. picnic several years ago at Dawson Springs. One verdict was for $25,000 and the second $10,000. The former was reversed and a new trial granted.

The Nichols suit was brought for $10,000 for the loss of a leg and a verdict for $3,000 was returned. Miss Nichols lost her leg in the same accident in which Mrs. Stevenson lost her life.

The money was paid over to Attorney Taylor & Lucas for the plaintiff by Attorney Wheeler, Hughes & Berry, for the railroad.

This is probably the biggest damages the railroad has paid, in several terms of court. During the present civil term, which is drawing to a close, the attorneys for the railroad tried at least a dozen or more cases where the railroad was interested, and but two judgments were filed against them, these being for $150 and $300. The record made by the railroad attorneys is an excellent one.

A great deal of credit is also due to Attorney Taylor and Lucas, who made a hard fight for several years in the cases.

Circuit Court.

The present term of McCracken civil circuit court will end tomorrow, and Judge William M. Reed will take a week's rest before opening court at Benton. This has been a very eventful term of court, and much business was transacted.

There was not much done in court today, the principal case being that of Mrs. Rose Robertson against Josie Sebastiane. The suit was brought to settle the ownership of property on South Fourth street where the sheriff's office was formerly located, at 126 South Fourth. The case is being argued this afternoon and will be finished by night.

Deeds.

William Buchanan and others deed to E. C. Foster, for $170, property in the county.

John Williamson deeds to H. F. Kolb, for $4,000, property near Third and Jefferson streets.

Carnegie Organs Cause Destruction of Churches—Woman Predicts
Her Death.

OTHER STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

Pana, Ill., Feb. 16.—Having a premonition that he was needed in Pana, G. V. Penwell of Chicago arrived here just a few minutes before his son, C. Tutt Penwell, secretary of the Penwell Coal company, was killed by a locomotive. The younger Mr. Penwell was 29 years old, one of the best known coal mine operators in the state and interested in various other business enterprises of magnitude.

Grudge Against Carnegie Organs.

Pittsburg, Feb. 16.—"Another Carnegie organ means another fire," wrote some one to the pastor of the Mount Washington Methodist church after the building had been destroyed for the second time, and as a consequence members of the congregation now are standing guard nightly, as a third edifice has been erected and a third organ, the gift of Mr. Carnegie has been installed. Several nights ago two men were frightened away from the church, and in their flight left a bundle of oiled waste.

Died On Date Predicted.

Van Buren, Ark., Feb. 16.—Mrs. C. F. Harvey, aged 60 years, relict of Judge Harvey, died here from an attack of pneumonia. Judge Harvey died February 13, 1904, and for some time Mrs. Harvey said she would die on the second anniversary of her husband's death.

When stricken with pneumonia her friends tried to deceive her as to the date of the month by telling her it was the 20th, but a few hours before her death and during her last moments of consciousness she said to them:

"This is the 13th!"

Secured Two Wives by Advertising.

Richmond, Va. Feb. 16.—Lemuel Borden, the eccentric Shenandoah county lawyer, editor and poet, took a third wife here. The bride was Mrs. Julia H. Easton, Pa., Feb. 16.—Frederick D. Jones, 18 years of age, son of Cyrus D. Jones, a millionaire of Scranton, who was clandestinely wed Dec. 5, last to Miss Miriam Irish of Lake Irie, has been told by his father that he and his young wife will have to live on his salary of $8 a week for two years, at the expiration of which time, if they are not in debt, the son is to receive $20,000 and a partnership interest in the parent's tea business. Jones has taken up a residence here and will try to carry out the conditions.

Lawton, Okla., Feb. 16.—Geronimo has been deposed as chief of the Apaches. Asa Deluke, a young scout, has been chosen to succeed the old warrior. This result of a council fire held on the Fort Sill reservation today will bring about the end of the old Indian tribal customs, and the new chief will make a journey to Washington in effort to obtain for his fellows a republican form of government.

THE CHARLESTON

May Be Saved, Thinks Capt. Frank Wagner, Who Has Returned.

Capt. Frank Wagner has returned from Wolf Island, near Hickman, Ky., in the Mississippi river and states that his boat, the Charleston, which has been aground for a week, is probably not a total loss. She was left high and dry, and her hog chains broke and caused the boat to break on one side but not entirely through. The crew was brought to Paducah yesterday with the exception of John Tanner, the carpenter, and Watchman James Jones. They remained with the boat.

Capt. Wagner thinks his insurance policy covers the Mississippi river, although Marine Adjustor Dana Scott, says it doesn't.

A week ago Oscar Bryant, one of the colored deck hands, was shot from the bank and killed. It is not known who shot him, but is supposed to have been two strange negroes who had been put off the boat.

The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c, 50c and $1 at Alvey & List's and G. C. C. Kolb's."

She came west with parents in early life, settling at Rock Island, where she was married to John R. Daly July 4th, 1849. A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinician Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below, she has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use." "Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would blout after eating, and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "fall-gone" or "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blue and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured, and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

HAMLIN GARLAND

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HAMLIN GARLAND

In such wise he argued, and even Kelly admitted the truth of what he said. Others spoke, grizzled old fellows from other districts, men who had given up all hope of discovering a lead for themselves; men with families to feed and educate, who had fallen to contentment with a good wage and a steady job. But in some of the speeches a note of bitterness toward Valley Springs made itself heard. Sky-town had begun to hate the valley as the home of those who lived on the labor of others, and some of those in the valley, as Raymond well knew, expressed their contempt of those who dwelt in the sky by calling them "red necks," in allusion to their tanned or dripped faces. Politically the two towns were already as wide apart as the poles, and references to this division were numerous during the evening. The county was divided against itself and hopelessly embittered, and Bozle was eager to be free from the valley.

Kelly, weary of the wrangle, touched Raymond on the arm and turned toward the door. A big miner, detecting this movement, shouted out, "Here's Kelly taking a sneak!"

Instantly Kelly was seized, a couple of brawny fellows lifted him to the bar, and so, towering over them all, the big prospector took off his hat and, with smiling composure, said: "Boys, I wish ye well. I make no objection to the plans, but why should I, an old burro puncher, bother me head about a union? No one is cuttin' my wages. No one is shortenin' my hours of labor. Besides"—and here he broke into a broad smile—"I'm an employer of labor myself."

"Down wid 'im!" shouted Munro. "To what extent?" asked another. "To the whole of five men—not countin' myself," answered Kelly with a roguish grin. "And I'm a hard-rod master."

A roar of laughter responded to his jest.

"Down with the oppressor of labor!" shouted Munro. "Off with 's head!"

Kelly playfully struck at him with his hat and then became serious. "Now, boys, let me tell you. I honestly don't think you need a union. The landscape is wide up here there's a chance for every man in the hills. I believe in the big, free land. When any man tries to corner me, I take me and strike out into the wide country. I have no fear of the Red Star Mining company nor any other, and you needn't. I do not oppose the union. Mind what I'm sayin'. It's well enough for those who believe in it and make it, but have me out of it. The Kellys will take care of themselves."

Larned was on the box before Kelly had time to get down and, leveling his finger at him, cried out sharply: "That's all well and good for you, Matt Kelly, a skilled prospector, a man with a paying mine already, but how about those men who have no skill in finding gold, who are working for money to start themselves a home? How about those who are hoping to bring their families here and educate them? They are not so fond of all outdoors. They haven't even the mule and the grub stake. They are holed up five hundred or a thousand feet underground, working for a company, and this company, I tell you, has no regard for its hands. Their interests are not those of the miner. You may blarney all you like, but the miners must look out for their own interests, just as the employer hires lawyers and agents to look after his."

"Very true," replied Kelly calmly. "I'm not objectin' to that. Organize and take care of labor's interests, but don't ask me, an employer of labor, to throw up me hat when you vote to raise the wages of me five men. I'll fight scandalous!"

"Go it, Kelly! You have him on three legs and go!" shouted a wag, and, amid the laughter that followed, Kelly leaped down and made for the door.

When Raymond overtook him again he was in talk with a lean young fellow with large, bright eyes, who had the tone of an old and bitterly disappointed man.

Kelly introduced him. "Rob, shake hands with Mr. Dolan, correspondent of the Valley Springs News. Jim, this is my new partner."

Dolan, as he clasped hands, remarked, "You've met up with a good man, a man that won't do ye, and there aren't many after him in this town."

Only long after did it come to Raymond's mind that Kelly had been giving Dolan a note concerning their plans and that his whereabouts would be at once made known to Valley Springs and to Louis.

"Who is this man Munro?" asked Raymond as they left the reporter and started for home.

"He's a devil-may-care chap from Red Cliff. He pretends to be a miner and is a partner with an old fellow on the north side of the hill, but he's workin' for Hanley—lookout for the roulette wheel. The boys all think a heap of him. They say he always gives 'em a square deal."

"Does he?"

"I think so. I never heard to the contrary."

"Larned was right about the union," said Raymond. "The big owners in the Springs are sending out for their miners. They know that men like you and me will not do their deep work for them. He's right, too, in saying these cowboys and farm hands from the states won't make miners. They don't intend to work underground. We'll find ourselves left short some morning if we depend on these fellows, who can hit the trail at ten minutes' notice."

"Sure thing," said Kelly. "This gettin' under the crust o' the earth and livin' there is unholly business—not for free men like ourselves. It's all goin' to be done by the Roosians and the dagoes."

In silence the two men looked abroad over the valley toward the dim line of peaks faintly lit by the big silver bright moon.

A sentence from Richter came into Raymond's mind. "In the presence of beauty, beneath the stars, men think of love," and his heart ached with a sense of loss.

Unconsciously, in spite of his attempt to put himself away from her presence, Ann had come to dominate his musing hours. At thought of her he grew resolute and hopeful and, reaching forth a powerful hand, grasped the air as if it were the throat of a hitherto invincible opponent and said, "I will win!" He acknowledged that wealth had power to aid him. "So long as I am unknown and poor and in disgrace she can only consider me what I am—a failure. Money is a measure of value, and wealth I must have first; then leisure and the higher life."

CHAPTER XI.

ON the second morning after his meeting with Dolan, Raymond, riding down the trail toward Bozle, discovered a small figure toiling toward him, pausing often to rest. "It can't be Louis," he said, "and yet there's something familiar in that walk. It is Louis, and he's on my trail!"

When the boy, lifting his tired head, recognized the rider he uttered a fierce shout of joy, but he fairly staggered with weakness.

Raymond slid from his horse and put his arm about the reeling lad. "When did you come to camp?"

Louis leaned against his big friend. "Oh, I've been here a week. I knew you were here somewhere, but I couldn't get track of you. Don was over here yesterday, but I dodged him, and he went back. I didn't sign my own name on the register. He grinned slyly. "See my boots. Aren't they right?"

Raymond looked down at the boy's small legs clothed with miner's leath boots. "You believe in dressing the part, don't you? You are a kidder!" he laughed at the boy's chaplain-like look, for Louis detested being called a boy, and added: "Well, what now? Does your sister know where you are?"

"No."

Raymond's whole expression changed. "Climb that horse," he said sternly. "You're going back to town, and you're going to send her a telegram at once."

As he led the horse down the hill Raymond comprehended something of the anxiety the runaway had brought to Ann and that he indirectly was the cause of it, but at the door of the office he said more gently: "Now, you'll hop off. You're going to send word to the folks that you're with me and safe."

"You're not going to drive me away?"

Raymond looked at him in silence. "No. I'm going to put you to work."

Hurry and Worry

Hurry, like a cyclone, whirls you along at a rate that quickly exhausts your energy, and leaves you a nervous, wretched, broken-down physical wreck.

Worry accomplishes the same results in another way. It drags you through the dark, gloomy tunnel of forbodings, wrecks your nerves and breaks down the constitution.

Then don't hurry; don't worry. But you will; and your nervous, exhausted condition brings headaches, neuralgia, heart, stomach, liver and kidney troubles. The thing to do is: Strengthen the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nerve.

"Six months I was bedfast with nervous prostration. I had sinking spells, a cold, clammy feeling, couldn't stand the slightest noise. At times I would almost fly to pieces; stomach very weak. My husband insisted on my taking Dr. Miles' Nerve, and I began to improve before I had finished the first bottle, and to-day I am entirely cured."

The boy's face threw off its shadow. "That's bully! Now I'm all right. Give me a pen." He wrote:

I have found Bob. We're all O. K. Don't worry. LOUIS.

As he handed it over he said gayly, "Will that do?"

"That's satisfactory. Now rush it."

As they walked out Raymond sternly asked: "Want to stay with me, do you? Well, everybody works where I live. We don't allow idlers. If you had something to do you'd keep out o' mischief."

Louis twisted his small right arm. "I'm ready for anything."

"Got your outfit—your whole kit?"

"I've got one camera and my drawing materials."

Raymond packed his hand bags on the horse, and together they set out up the trail. At first the lad exulted and cried out like a blue jay, but his breathing grew labored as they rose, and at last Raymond turned. "Now, see here, Louis, this air is pretty thin till a fellow gets used to it; you'd better mount. You'll enjoy the scenery better."

With a feeling that he was succumbing to an unmanly weakness, Louis clambered to the horse's back and perched among his possessions, while Raymond, striding ahead, led the way up and up till the whole world seemed coming into view. "Oh, this is fine! Jupiter, this is the place for me!"

He was unforgottenly delighted with everything—with the new shacks, with the slab tables and the plank chairs and with the liberal and smoking dinner which Mrs. Kelly provided—but he drew a hissing breath of admiration over the grand figure of old Matthew Kelly. "Gee, but you're a wonder! I must do you."

Kelly was puzzled and a little embarrassed by this outspoken admiration and regarded Louis with definite disfavor till he presented him with a pencil drawing of the lads playing on the doorstep, and then he said: "The Lord God has made a power o' people that the Kellys have not seen. This is wan of them. Now, isn't that a wonder? He put the whole thing together in five minutes." Thereafter he accepted the boy for the cunning that lay in his fingers.

Raymond wrote that night to Ann as formally as the riot in his brain would permit: "I planned to take myself out of your life as completely as if I were dead, but Louis would not have it so. When I met him on the hill today and he told me how long he had been from home, I determined to hustle him back to the Springs, but he asked to stay a day or two, and here he is. Will you trust him with me? He will tire of it here by and by and go back to you of his own accord. Just now he is mad over the life and the scenery. As for myself, I am a new man, with new aspirations. They may seem very high to you, for I am striving now to acquire gold, but that is only a means to an end. There is something else in the world for me to do. I don't know what it is to be—perhaps my care of this wonderful boy is a part of it. At any rate, he is here and not to be driven away without great risk to him and deep pain to me. So, unless you object, I shall keep him. Our life is rough, but not contaminating. I will see that no harm comes to him."

There was nothing more personal in the letter than this, but Ann's heart warmed to the writer unaccountably. And yet the thought of Louis in a mining camp troubled her. "I ought to go and fetch him away," she said to Don. "No, no! You remain here, and I will go over and see the little scamp and bring him back if possible."

The next morning Raymond put into action a measure he had formulated during the night. He called Louis to him, and together they ascended the "Lookout," as Kelly called the ledge back of his cabin. "See here, lad, I've brought you up here to ask you a few questions," said he.

Louis braced himself. "Fire away!"

"As I understand it, you and Ann are alone in the world—I mean you are closer to each other than to any one else—she's your best friend. You've given her a great deal of anxiety, my lad, and that isn't right. You must go straight back to her and apologize and ask her permission to come back. If she consents, then I'll make a place for you here."

"She won't consent. I'd have to run away again, and I'd do it," he added defiantly.

Are You Restless at Night?

"Life is real, life is earnest," is not the motto of the social butterfly.

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up of a drop of alcohol in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is also a catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve most cases of indigestion and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal tract."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, and other roots, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Robert A. Hare, D. M., of Medical Department, University of Pennsylvania; Prof. J. M. Hahnemann, M. D., of Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and accepted others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

GOOD CATCH.

If This Man Under Arrest is the One Chief McNutt Wants.

Chief of Police C. H. McNutt, of Mayfield, has gone to Carbondale, Ill., after Walter Howard, a young white man who is alleged to be wanted in Ballard county on the charge of attempted criminal assault on a young lady. McNutt has been working on the case since last summer and at several times thought he had landed the young man, but always failed.

The officer received a telegram from the chief of police of Carbondale that Howard was in custody. There is a nice reward out for the capture of the young man and the Mayfield officer will get the larger portion of it. The name of the young lady whom Howard is alleged to have made the attempted charge on is unknown to Chief McNutt, but she has many relatives in the Fancy Farm section where she was raised. The father of Howard, it is said, lives near Lowes.

MORNING BLAZE

HOUSE OF MONROE MUNNING ON HAYES AVENUE BURNED.

Two Others Damaged—The Loss Will Not Be Great.

The fire departments were called to the residence of Monroe Munning, at 317 Hayes avenue, owned by Wm. Taylor, and the residences of D. B. Sills, 315, and J. F. Tucker, 323 Hayes avenue, on each side of the Munning house, this morning at 4:30 o'clock. The Munning house is a total loss, but the other two were only slightly burned and comparatively little damage was done.

The fire originated from a defective flue, it is said, in the Munning house. The flames had gained good headway when discovered and had spread to the other houses by the time the fire companies reached the scene. Good work was done and the other adjoining houses saved.

The furniture and house of Munning were fairly insured. The household effects of Tucker and Sills were saved with slight damage by water. The loss will amount to about $300, it is said. The water pressure was good and the fire departments did excellent work. They were all small frame dwellings.

JUST WAITING

For a Little More Evidence in the Mangrum Case.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 16.—Just at present matters regarding the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Rosa Mangrum are exceeding quiet, and officers say they are in possession of no new facts concerning the case. While there are apparently no new developments as to the case so far as the public is concerned, it is an evident fact that the detectives working on the case have secured during the past few weeks a dangerous web of evidence and are holding back from acting until they are thoroughly satisfied that they have a good case.

Efforts to locate the missing clothing and jewelry worn by Mrs. Mangrum have proved futile, although a reward has been offered for their restoration. Officers seem to think that whoever did the killing hid the clothes in order that no suspicion might arise from their discovery. It is another settled fact, they say, that the murderer had no accomplice in taking her life.

Drs. Louis DeRoy and W. A. Bryan, who have been employed for several days past in conducting a chemical analysis of Mrs. Mangrum's stomach, have not yet completed their work, but when it is done they will hand their official report to Attorney-General E. A. Price. Whether the analysis will disclose the manner in which she was killed is a conjecture. This fact may never be known.

At present the reward in the case for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party is $600.

Attorney Lal Threlkeld, of the firm of Grassham & Threlkeld, has received notice that the steam heating plant in the New Century hotel at Dawson has been successfully tested and is a success. The resort will be kept open winter and summer. It is expected that the attempt to make Dawson a health resort for all seasons will be successful.

INSURANCE

SPECIAL SALE OF UNDERWEAR 20 PER CENT OFF

WE are now making our annual cut on fine Underwear and you get your chance to economize TWENTY PER CENT is the discount on all Underwear from $2.00 up, with the exception of Balbriggans and super-weights. These goods will be just as good next year, from your standpoint, as they are now, but not so with a merchant. We aim to "clean house" every spring and do it thoroughly. Remember, that it will be cold next winter, too, and don't neglect this substantial saving just because you don't happen to need underclothing right now. Suppose you come in today or tomorrow.

OUR CHILDREN'S CLOTHING NOW ONE-FOURTH OFF

THE same rule is being applied in our Children's Department which is applied to all the rest of our store—ONE-FOURTH OFF ON EVERYTHING EXCEPT BLUES AND BLACKS. In order to maintain our high standard in this department we must move ALL our stock each season—no shop-worn goods here. Nearly every mother in Paducah knows the class of goods we carry. $1.25 saved out of every $5.00 is something really worth while.

25 Per Cent Off On Odd Pants, Suits and Overcoats

THE One-Fourth OFF sale on Overcoats, Suits and Pants is still going on, but there is not very much time left for those who wish to take advantage of these reductions, because the sale has been patronized very liberally and it is becoming hard to find everyone's size. We have your size now, probably, but it may be gone in a day or two. Don't you think you had better come in pretty soon?

SPRING HATS

OUR spring Hats have begun to arrive—in styles and colorings more attractive than they have been for years. Shapes which are becoming to everyone are easy to find this season and we are anxious to have you come in and look them over. We certainly want your head this spring. Look at our windows as you are passing; some of the styles are displayed there.

SHOES for SPRING POPULAR KINDS

THE shoe men are keeping up with the procession this spring, too, for there is a wealth of new styles to select from, both in shapes and leathers. The Nettleton and Stacy Adams Shoes, which we handle, are standard and we don't need to say much about the quality of them, but we do want to call your attention to the dash and swing which is so evident in the new styles. There is an appearance of elegance about these shoes which appeals to you at once and a "feel" to them which demonstrates that comfort has, after all, been the first requisite in the designer's scheme. Here are some of the toes which are destined to popularity, because of their distinctive shape, combined with good, solid comfort: "Pidgin," "Jap" and "Stub." They come in all leathers—Patent Vici, Gun Metal and Patent Colt—either button or lace.

Our $3.50 line is a strong one, too; lots of men never pay more than that for shoes. We like to show our goods to a man who is a judge of shoe leather, he usually likes them. This season we are showing the new "Dart" and "Comet" toes, which come in gun metal and patent colt. The price is $3.50—neither too much or too little.

The exclusive custom made shirts are no better in any respect and prices are vastly different. You can see some of them in our windows.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 16.—The students of Kentucky University, by vote expressed their preference for the two Kentuckians most deserving of places in the Hall of Fame in Washington. Out of a total of 343 votes Henry Clay received 152; Abraham Lincoln, 101; Jefferson Davis, 72; Daniel Boone, 23; Geo. Rodgers Clark, 12; Thomas Marshall and John C. Breckinridge, 6 each; William Goebel, 4; Dr. Ephraim McDowell, 3, and Richard H. Meade, 1.

Taking them by pairs, Davis and Lincoln received 15 votes, Clay and Killed By a Boy.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 16.—Ernest Tierce, aged 16 years, shot and instantly killed Thomas Goodwin, aged 35 years. Goodman was drunk and had attacked Tierce with a knife. The men lived in what is known as Fishtown, a settlement along the river bank. Tierce with two other men were in the house when Goodman broke down the door and assaulted the boy. After firing the shot Tierce rushed to the police station and asked to be locked up.

Davis, 10; Clay and Clark, 7; Clay and Marshall, 5; Clay and Breckinridge, 5; Clay and Goebel, 4; Lincoln and Breckinridge, 1; Clay and Menefee, 1, and Boone and McDowell, 2. The names of ten distinguished Kentuckians had been posted on the chapel door for the past few days, and the contest excited a great deal of interest. While Clay received the largest individual vote, Lincoln and Davis led in the joint vote.

Boy Vaccinates Companions.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 16.—Stanley Connor, ten years of age, a pupil in the Owensboro public schools, in the second grade, has kept the local physicians from earning $50 in the past two weeks. Recently the school board issued orders requiring all of the school children to be vaccinated. Young Connor was among the first of the children to be vaccinated. A large scab formed on his arm, of which he was very proud. His teacher had been reading to him of philanthropy and he decided to become charitable. He stuck the point of a needle in the scab and would then scratch the arm of a child. He repeated this operation on about fifty children. The regulation fee charged with the physician is $1, but Connor's services were gratis.

"Have you been vaccinated?" asked the teachers of the children. "Yes, ma'am," they reply. "Stanley Connor vaccinated me."

Stanley's vaccination passed muster. Those interested in the case say they will see to it that the boy is sent to a fine medical school when he is old enough to leave home.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES

Found That There Was Nothing in Sensational Report.

An attempt to stir up more trouble in the schools was made again yesterday, but it fell flat after a thorough investigation, the evidence showing it to have been due to an exaggerated report circulated.

It was reported that a principal had unmercifully beaten a policeman's child; had knocked him down and kicked him in the body. The report reached the ears of the school authorities and yesterday afternoon and investigation was held. The result was the exoneration of the school teacher.

The father of the boy reported to have received the unmerciful punishment was seen and stated that his son had not complained to him and he knew nothing about it except what he had been told by outsiders. The entire matter was thoroughly probed and it developed that the boy had acted impudently towards the teacher and received a "box on the ears."

SCHOOL TEACHERS

Holding Their Regular Meeting This Afternoon.

The public schools were dismissed at noon for the remainder of the day in order that the teachers hold their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting is a departure from the style of meetings heretofore held, and is being conducted by Supt. Leib. The subject under discussion is "School Management." Heretofore the teachers have been taking a regular course with some principal conducting the meeting. This month the superintendent decided to conduct the meeting and outline a few plans for the betterment of school management.

Mr. Pat Atkinson, the well known telegraph operator, has received a telegram from Chief Dispatcher Clifford, of the Santa Fe railroad, at Cleburn, Tex., asking Mr. Atkinson to come to Cleburn to work under him, and Mr. Atkinson will probably accept. He worked several years under Dispatcher Clifford and likes Texas very much. Mr. Atkinson, who is son-in-law of Col. Bud Dale, is just recovering from an attack of pneumonia, and will probably leave for Texas as soon as he is able to travel.
